

Are you having problems using the Addison Wesley Video Lectures on CDs?..... Here's what to do.

The Details:

In QuickTime versions 7.15 and later, Apple introduced a security measure that prevents web browsers from playing videos off of a CD or local hard drive. As a result, users who attempt to view Digital Video Tutor or Video Lectures on CD get an error message.

This problem affects some of the Addison Wesley Digital Video Tutor or Video Lectures on CD that accompany math textbooks with a copyright of 2005 and affects nearly all 2006-2008 titles. Prentice Hall CDs are not affected and this problem does not occur for videos launched from within the product websites.

The Fix:

1.) Go to http://filehippo.com/download_quicktime_player/?1550

2.) Click this  button to download QuickTime Player 7.1.3.1 the best version of Quicktime for playing your Video Lectures on CD

Note: QuickTime Player 7.1.3.1 will play both the videos on CD and the video online in MyMathLab, you will not need to install a different version of Quicktime to watch the Lecture Videos when online in MyMatLab