

CHILDREN'S RESIDENTIAL PROGRAMMING CERTIFICATE (RSPR)

RICORP and CCRI have entered into an agreement for CCRI to provide a 30-credit-hour certificate program in Children's Residential Programming. This program was designed specifically for people working in children's residential treatment. RICORP students will take their ordinary orientation training, earning 3 credits, and then move on to other CCRI courses. All courses will be offered on three of CCRI's campuses. Some courses may be scheduled at other convenient locations with sufficient enrollment.

This certificate program may also lead some students to complete a 60-credit-hour associate degree in Human Services. Those students who have completed the required courses at CCRI will be granted credit in the certificate program. For those RICORP staff who can document five years of employment in children's residential services, HMNS 1200 Practicum I will be waived.

Students may also be eligible for financial aid through Pell Grants. If you are interested you should contact the CCRI Financial Aid Office at 825-2281.
