

Continuing education opportunity for allied health professionals

The Community College of Rhode Island is offering:

Topics in Geriatrics

RHAB 8020
Fall 2016

WHERE:

CCRI's Newport County Campus,
1 John H. Chafee Blvd., Newport.

WHEN:

Noon to 3 p.m.

Oct. 15 and 22
Nov. 12 and 19
Dec. 3

TUITION

(additional fees may apply):

|                   |              |
|-------------------|--------------|
| In-state rate     | $180/credit |
| Regional rate     | $270/credit |
| Out-of-state rate | $534/credit |

Please register on or before
Aug. 31.

This one-credit course is designed for PTAs, OTAs, massage therapists and other allied health professionals who work in the subacute settings or home care. This course is approved for 15 CEHs or 1.5 CEUs through the RIAPTA.

Each class, taught by OTs, RDs, PTs, NPs and ECHM professionals, covers a different topic:

- Managing cognitive change in the geriatric patient
- Nutrition in the geriatric population
- Measuring change in physical therapy
- Pharmacology 101 for nonpharmacists
- Solutions for the home environment

For more information, contact Martha Vigneault at mvigneault@ccri.edu.

REGISTRATION INFORMATION

If you have attended CCRI, you may register online. See www.ccri.edu/oes/records/online\_registration.html for details.

If you have never attended CCRI, you must apply to the college online at www.ccri.edu/oes/admissions/apply.html

