FIRE SCIENCE
Associate in Applied Science (A.A.S.) Degree
Flanagan/Liston/Knight Campus
Admission Guidelines

---

Evenings Only
The Community College of Rhode Island’s Fire Science Program provides the opportunity of earning an Associate in Applied Science degree. This program is opened to individuals with an interest in the fields of firefighting.

The program is composed of both professional and general education courses. The professional courses, prefixed by the code “FIRE”, are available only during the evening. Courses offered in Fire Science are approved by the State of Rhode Island for the Fire Fighters Incentive Pay Plan. Students may enroll in the Fire Science Program on a full-time or part-time basis.

Career Opportunities
Graduates work for municipal fire departments or obtain positions in the fields of industrial fire safety and security, fire protection engineering technology, fire insurance inspection, or investigation underwriting and ambulance services.

Admission Guidelines
REQUIREMENTS for Acceptance into Fire Science Program:
1. A completed application
2. An official copy of high school transcript or GED

```
All the above requirements must be completed satisfactorily BEFORE an applicant can be offered acceptance. Applicant list standing does not constitute admission into the program. At the time of admission, the student must meet the current admission requirements of the program. Students declining acceptance into the program for the semester offered, must reapply to the program and meet the current admission requirements. Once accepted into Fire Science, the student must attend a mandatory orientation conducted by the Nursing

General Policies for EMT-B (Basic) – FIRE 1130
- Students will be required to have a criminal background check through the Bureau of Criminal Investigation (BCI) through the college. In compliance with the requirements for clinical agencies, anyone who has been convicted of a felony may be unable to attend clinical/field experience in those agencies. No incident or probation must have occurred within the past 5 years. Further, applicants convicted of a felony will need to comply with state licensure requirements from the Rhode Island Department of Health. For more information, contact the Department Chairperson.
- Complete Health Requirements as specified.
