ACTION/VOTING ITEMS

Revised Course Proposal: Fundamentals of Nursing

NURS 1010, 6 credits

Originator: Mary Costa, John Rood

RATIONALE:

Student and faculty feedback indicate that an increase in the number of clinical hours is recommended. Nursing students need to be proficient in basic skills in order to safely take care of patient populations. Nursing department faculty have voted and approved new admission requirements that will be enacted in 2021, including a requirement for an active Certified Nursing Assistant (CNA) license at the time of application. This change will allow for content specific to CNA training to be removed and/or condensed from the current NURS 1010 course material. A change from 4 didactic hours to 3 didactic hours will account for this new admission requirement.

CATALOG DESCRIPTION:

OLD:

This course will introduce the student to the role of the professional nurse, including legal and ethical standards. Students will learn how to assess and provide safe, evidence-based interventions to meet basic patient needs using the nursing process, with an emphasis on the older adult. Application of foundational concepts and basic psychomotor skills occurs in the nursing laboratory and a variety of clinical settings.

NEW:

No changes.
