

Accessibility Wizard Links

- Setting Windows options for people who are blind or have vision impairments
- ToggleKeys: Hear Tones When Pressing Certain Keys - ToggleKeys is an accessibility feature designed for people who have vision impairment or cognitive disabilities. Learn how to use ToggleKeys in Windows XP.
- High Contrast: Choose a High Contrast Color Combination to Improve Screen Resolution - High Contrast color schemes can increase legibility for some users by heightening screen contrast with alternative color combinations. Learn how to enable high contrast in Windows XP.
- Choose the Width and Blink Rate of the Cursor - Adjusting the cursor width and blink rate makes it easier to see. Learn how to set the cursor width and blink rate in Windows XP.
- Use Large Icons - You can enlarge the icons on your screen to make them easier to see or to access. Learn how to use large icons in Windows XP.
- Choose Screen Resolution - For higher legibility of documents on screen, you can adjust the screen resolution of your monitor. Learn how to adjust screen resolution in Windows XP.
- Choose a Pointer Scheme - You can choose a pointer scheme predefined set of mouse pointers, such as Magnified or Windows Black (extra large) to increase visibility of the mouse pointer on your screen. Learn how to choose a pointer scheme in Windows XP.
- Display Pointer Trails - For better visibility of the mouse pointer, you can set Windows XP to display pointer trails on Liquid Crystal Display (LCD) screens. Learn how to display pointer trails in Windows XP.
- Hide the Pointer While Typing - For better visibility of your document while you work especially if you use an enlarged mouse pointer or a pointer scheme, you can set Windows XP to hide the mouse pointer while you type. Learn how to hide the pointer while typing in Windows XP.
- Show Location of Pointer - You can use a brief animation to help you quickly locate the pointer on your screen while you work. Learn how to use this feature in Windows XP.
- Ignore Colors, Font Styles, or Font Sizes Specified on Web Pages - Your color and style selections can override those on a Web page if you set Internet Explorer 6 to ignore colors, font styles, and font sizes specified on Web pages. Learn how to ignore Web colors and fonts in Windows XP.
- Format Web Pages Using a Custom Style Sheet - Advanced computer users can display Web pages using their own custom style sheets to specify the default font style, size, colors, and background for text and headings. Learn how to use style sheets in Windows XP.
- Select Text and Background Colors of Web Pages - To increase contrast between screen elements, you can select text and background colors of Web pages displayed on your screen. Learn how to select text and background colors with Windows XP.
- Select Colors for Visited and Unvisited Links - Particular color choices make links easier to see for some users, especially those who use highcontrast color schemes. Learn how to select colors for visited and unvisited links on Web pages in Windows XP.

- Select Hover Link Colors - You can choose a color to display links you pass over or point to with the mouse pointer. This hover color can help some people with vision or cognitive impairments identify links on Web pages. Learn how to change hover colors in Windows XP.
- Select a Font Style for Web Pages that Do Not Have a Specified Text Font - You can select a font style to be used in Web pages that do not have a specified text font. Learn how to use this feature in Windows XP.
- Always Expand ALT Text for Images - The ALT text is read by the text-to-speech engine to describe images. Learn how to ensure that ALT text is not cut off if the amount of ALT text is larger than the image in Windows XP.
- Turn On or Turn Off Play Animations, Sounds, and Videos in Web Pages - Turning off the ability to play animations, sounds, and videos will often improve the visual experience for people who have low vision or who are sensitive to screen flashing. Learn how to turn off or turn on these features in Windows XP.
- Choose a Sound Scheme - Sound schemes can benefit people who rely on sounds to get information from their computers including people who are blind or have other vision impairments. Learn how to use sound schemes in Windows XP.
- Assign a Sound to a System Event - Unique sounds help users who are blind navigate on their computers. Learn how to use assign sounds in Windows XP.
- Customize the Start Menu - The size of icons and number of items on the Start menu can benefit people with vision impairments and cognitive/learning disorders. Learn how to customize the Start menu in Windows XP.
- Turn On and Use Narrator - Narrator is a Text-to-Speech utility for people who are blind or have low vision. Learn how to turn on and use Narrator in Windows XP.
- Set Narrator to Announce Events on the Screen - Narrator is a Text-to-Speech utility for people who are blind or have low vision. Learn how to set Narrator to announce when new windows are opened in Windows XP.
- Set Narrator to Read Typed Characters - Narrator is a Text-to-Speech utility for people who are blind or have low vision. Learn how to set Narrator to read typed characters aloud in Windows XP.
- Set Narrator to Move Mouse Pointer to the Active Item - Narrator is a Text-to-Speech utility for people who are blind or have low vision. Learn how to set Narrator to move to an active item and read it aloud in Windows XP.
- Start Narrator Minimized - Narrator is a Text-to-Speech utility for people who are blind or have low vision. Learn how to automatically start Narrator minimized so it's easily accessible on the taskbar in Windows XP.
- Set Narrator Voice Options - Narrator is a Text-to-Speech utility for people who are blind or have low vision. Learn how to set Narrator voice options in Windows XP.
- Turn On and Use Magnifier - Magnifier is a display utility that makes the computer screen more readable by people. Learn how to turn on and use Magnifier in Windows XP.
- Change the Position of the Magnifier Window - Magnifier is a display utility that makes the computer screen more readable by people. Learn how to change the position of the Magnifier window in Windows XP.

- Change the Size of the Magnifier Window - Magnifier is a display utility that makes the computer screen more readable by people. Learn how to change the size of the Magnifier window in Windows XP.
- Invert the Colors of the Magnifier Window - Magnifier is a display utility that makes the computer screen more readable. Learn how to invert the colors of the Magnifier window in Windows XP.
- Set the Magnifier Magnification Level - Magnifier is a display utility that makes the computer screen more readable by people. Learn how to set the Magnifier magnification level in Windows XP.
- Set Magnifier Tracking Options - Magnifier is a display utility that makes the computer screen more readable by people. Learn how to set Magnifier tracking options in Windows XP.